

Essentials of Music Literacy Workshop

You can sing, but can you teach music?

Join instructor Yuriy Kravets in a hands-on workshop for those who wish to teach music and want to develop foundational music literacy in their students and children.

Learn proven strategies for teaching pitch and rhythm from the ground up and gain practical tools for teaching music with confidence.

Who is this for?

Christian Day School Teachers

Music and homeroom teachers who want a systematic approach to teaching foundational musical skills.

Children's Ministry Workers

Those serving children from outside the church who may have little experience with music.

Parents

Those wishing to give their children a head start in music literacy.
